Cotton Crop Review.

Memphis, Tenn. June 25.—The Commercial Appeal's weekly cotton crop review to-morrow will say:
Rains fell in moderate to heavy quantities in all parts of the cotton belt during the week except in Western. Southwestern and parts of Northern Texas and Western Oklahoma. Where rains fell the cotton crop has been put in most excellent condition, and the outlook is good. The nelds are well cultivated, and the plant is green, healthy, growing and fruiting. Blooms are reported in the most northern districts.

In Alabama and most of the central cotton belt the outlook is the best in many years, and conditions approach the ideal. They are a little less favorable in South Carolina, where rainfall has not yet been sufficient.

In Western Texas and Oklohamo the crop has suffered no injury that rain will not restore, but the ground is becoming quite dry, and such light and scattered showers as have fallen have given but little relief, Rain 'orapidly becoming a necessity for a good cotton crop.

In Arkansas, Louisiana and Southern Mississippi bell weevils are becoming more numerous since the rains, but are not so destructive as at this time last year.

PAYS TO KEEP POULTRY, BUT IT pays best to keep them clean. Only Magic Spray does it.

To the Southern Spray Co., 5 N. Seventh Street, City:
Gentlemen,—I have used the Magic Spray I bought of you only one time and it is a wonder. It killed every mite it touched in my hen house, and the next morning when I opened the place I was surprised to see my chickens in such good, clean shape, I only bought the Magic Spray on the 20th. The same week I had lost three of my hens and had about given up all hope of getting knything to save them, when a friend of mine surgested trying your Spray, saying it would do the work. I am sure one more application in my hen house will completely end the trouble, thanks to your Magic Spray.

Yours very truly,
